Dimes March Onward

Once again it becomes the privilege of every American to join actively in one of the great peace-time battles waged by man in his ceaseless struggle to make his world a better place in which to live.

This is the relentless battle against infantile paralysis—common enemy of all, regardless of age or accident of birth—spearheaded by the annual March of Dimes, held this year from Jan. 15 to 31.

Coming as it does in the wake of the second worst epidemic of the disease ever to ravage our nation, the 1947 March of Dimes deserves—and will undoubtedly receive—the fullest support of every one who not only wants to help those unable to help themselves, but to insure for himself and his family the best available care if and when the dread cripple strikes.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which sponsors the March of Dimes, is unique in the annals of public welfare organizations. It is literally the property of the American people who support it with their dimes. It has no other means for obtaining funds, such as endowments, bequests or grants. What it gets, it gets through the March of Dimes and through the March of Dimes only.

Not only is the National Foundation pledged to do its utmost when epidemic, or even individual cases, break out, its ceaseless research into the causes of the disease is the only promise we have that some day that cause will be discovered and rendered harmless.

In the meantime, we can all gather satisfaction from the fact that no one stricken with the disease, regardless of age, race, creed or color, need go without adequate care through lack of funds—and polio is among the most expensive of human afflictions.

There are three things we know with certainty. Polio will strike again—where or when we do not know. When it does strike the community will be ready—the National Foundation guarantees that. And the National Foundation will be ready because the March of Dimes will see to that!

Give generously, give proudly, give thankfully to the 1947 March of Dimes.

Herman Is Willing

Georgia's governorship tussle illustrates a neglected but vital fact about elective office in representative democracy.

Voters frequently give their support to symbols, rather than personalities. The officeholder's qualifications sometimes are less important than the thing voters believe he stands for. Georgia elected Gene Talmadge in 1946 because he stood for reaction. That is what his son Herman, trying to succeed his father, who died before he could take office, says he believes in too. He is willing to be a symbol of reaction, if that is what Georgia wants, and it looks as if that's what Georgia wants.

Here is something the opposition must take into thoughtful consideration. Much as Ellis Arnall may hate to abandon his office to a "pretender" and to the hard-bitten politics who have been helping to bundle Herman aboard the Georgia gravy train, it would be desperately hard to prove that Herman lacks backing. Georgia did vote, after all, for Herman's father. Like the majority in Mississippi, the majority in Georgia last year found it easy to go along with the reaction that revived the political prospects of the Bilbos and Talmadges in the deep south.

The rise of Talmadge's son, significantly, follows speculation that Bilbo's son might be called on to stand in for his father, in the event of the latter's death, or inability to serve. It has not been unusual for widows of politicians to receive appointments to succeed their husbands—more than half the women in Congress got there that way—but the son succession has been less common in this representative democracy. It is, however, just as reasonable, or unreasonable.

A Little Longer

The auto editor of Associated Press, David J. Wilkie, has sketched some of the more attractive details of the more perfect automobiles which are coming when the industry can produce them at a price suitable for a mass market. He says this will not be until 1948 at least. But the details sound fine.

Batteries won't conk out, engines will stay warm when not running, there will be more room and visibility. Cars will be better ventilated, better looking and easier to operate.

Americans who have been reading about details of the more perfect gadgets that are coming are feeling the gnawings of inner doubt. In varying degrees, the things holding up postwar improvements in automobiles have been holding up postwar improvements on many things. Either the price is too high, or the will to produce is lacking.

To pick a current example, the airlines are having a tragic slip twist cup and lip on the application of electronics to their safety problems; cost and bureaucratic fumbings are blamed. The people are still waiting at the beginning of 1947 for the realization of promises which disregarded the probability that the United States would be a badly-shaken nation in the postwar years.

Americans were so entranced with the sight of dollars changing hands at an unprecedented rate that it forgot to watch how much of its wealth was being destroyed in the war—wealth in lives, in property, in resources and in the energy and vigor of its people. That is why there will be a little longer to wait for more perfect automobiles and dream houses. An instantaneous golden era to be generated by war money has ceased to be the economic certainty it was supposed to be during wartime.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, January 18

THE presage is for a day of the exalted, romantic, adventurous and felicitous, in which the emotions, creative talents, personal magnetism and charm, with all pertaining to beauty, culture, inner urges and ideals, coming to the front for the advancement and realization of cherished hopes. And while such benign combination of powers and faculties may be applied to workaday objectives, yet a tendency to overact, with reckless, tumultuous and emotional impulses, may prove a defeating factor. Avert regrets through abrupt moves or wayward subtle urges.

On the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is have exceptional prospect of a peculiarly happy, progressive and constructive year, inspired by far vision and keen insight into deep currents of idealism and creative urge—probably intuitive or illuminated ideas or aspirations. The purely personal qualities, with beauty, charm, magnetism and other subtle or hidden factors, have sway over even commonplace and practical prospects. But any tendency to overdo in these spiritual or emotional impulses may be instrumental in bringing on strange defeats, frustrations, unique experiences, and unpredictable upsets. Tumult, erratic acts, and emotionalism exact severe penalties.

A child born on this day may possess many exceptional talents, graces, charms and powers. Erratic or turbulent impulses may defeat its highest ideals.

Women take better care of their hands than men, says a beauty authority. And she doesn't mean poker hands.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Dermatitis; Allergies That Cause It

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
DERMATITIS or inflammation of the skin may be produced in many ways. Infections may cause it. Rubbing or other mechanical irritations may be responsible.

But perhaps the most frequent cause of all is contact with some substance to which a patient is allergic or over-sensitive.

Where allergic disorders are concerned, each man is a law unto himself. Many things which are perfectly harmless to the great majority, may, nonetheless, bring about violent reactions in this or that individual.

Thus, there are all sorts of many causes of contact dermatitis as there are people who suffer from it. At one time or another, such innocent items as leather, khaki clothing, nylon, glasses, matches, adhesive tape, nickel in rings, and various dyed articles have all been found guilty of producing inflammation of the skin.

Contact With Medicine
According to Dr. James B. Howell of Dallas, the cause, often, is contact with some type of medicine.

The sulfonamide preparations and the mercurials rank as the most powerful sensitizing agents and the ones most likely to cause contact dermatitis. If a patient is sensitive to one sulfonamide compound, he is likely to be sensitive to all of them.

Many patients also become sensitive to tars. Thus it is often found that a patient who has been treated for some slight skin eruption such as hives, a burn, an insect bite or athlete's foot develops a dermatitis because he is sensitive to the preparations which are put on the skin to overcome these various conditions.

Of course, when skin inflammation develops in this way, the use of the various drugs should be stopped at once and other preparations substituted.

Types of Vegetation
Contact dermatitis may develop because of sensitization to various types of vegetation. Contact dermatitis may develop from weeds, among farmers, ranchers and workers in oil fields.

These who live in large cities rarely develop dermatitis from this cause but those who hunt, fish and golf may come in contact with weeds often enough to get a dermatitis in occasional instances.

These patients develop a rash which usually starts around the ankles. The backs of the hands, forearms, face, and eyelids, often become involved and, in fact, the rash may progress until all of the exposed surfaces of the body are affected.

Treatment in these cases involves complete avoidance of contact with weeds and desensitization by injection under the skin of extracts from the weeds which are producing the difficulty. In some instances, the eruption may also be so persistent that a change in occupation is necessary.

The first step in treatment of contact dermatitis is to find the substance to which the patient is sensitive. Then in most cases by elimination of contact, the disturbance can be overcome.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Tells How U-Boat Missed Churchill

(By Associated Press)

BERNBERG, Jan. 17 — Adm. U-boat nearly counted on Churchill among her victims one month after the war start-

...serving 10 years as a war criminal, told an interrogator in a prison cell here that the incident happened west of the Orkney Islands in October, 1939, when a U-boat struck the 33,000-ton British battleship Nelson with three torpedoes which failed to explode because they were faulty.

Dornitz said the U-boat captain was a "broken man" when he discovered later that Churchill was aboard the Nelson. He added that the torpedo's failure greatly hampered the war effort, especially at the beginning of the war.

Dornitz did not say how he knew the Nelson was aboard the U-boat at the time, but he admitted it had been confirmed through intelligence.

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 17.—Eight Columbiana village Republican incumbents headed by Mayor Kenneth T. Gormley, filed declarations of candidacy with the board of elections today for re-nomination at the primary election.

The group included six councilmen: Russell J. Barrow, Wesley Burkhardt, Harry Eberhart, Kenneth E. H. A. Fullerton and J. K. Harlan.

Two other incumbents, Clerk S. E. Smith and Treasurer Charles B. Fuhrman, Republicans, are expected to seek re-nomination.

Sorosis Entertained

GERMAN GENERALS' REFUSAL TO TALK IMPEDES WAR CRIMES TRIALS, CHARGE

By THOMAS A. REEDY
NUERNBERG, Jan. 17.—American attorneys declared today that German generals are giving them the silent treatment, a major impediment in the prosecution of war crimes.

Repeated interrogation of high-ranking officers has failed to develop the slightest tendency to "squeal" on each other, these attorneys said. They interpreted this silence as a mass effort to salvage the honor of the Wehrmacht.

One prominent prosecutor attributed the situation to two things:
1—The generals have not been given an incentive to "talk." All are under lock and key and have been for a year and a half with the expectation of being prosecuted for something.

2—Many fear that the German people would eventually brand them as "collaborators."
"We offer them nothing, not even freedom from indictment," this attorney said. "They figure they have nothing to gain by talking and everything to win by keeping silent."

Don't Tell Truth
"You can count on the fingers of your hands generals who have told us the frank truth."

The "collaboration" angle is equally important, he added. The generals are arrogant, think Germany will be "relieved" of occupation soon and they want to return to their former high status in their communities. Any notoriety stemming from testimony against the army or an individual would follow them forever, they calculate.

This situation explains the conduct of the trial of Field Marshal Erhard Milch, Luftwaffe commander accused of promoting the slave labor program and experiments on humans.

The entire prosecution was built around documents. Not one witness from the armed forces was presented. The lawyers couldn't find one who had anything to say in court against Milch.

The same thing is true of the trial of 23 SS doctors for experiments that killed many victims.

And it is also baffling the lawyers preparing the cases against the high command.

POLIO EPIDEMIC DRAINED FUNDS

Funds of more than 350 local chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in 39 states were completely exhausted in providing hospitalization and medical care for polio victims during last summer's epidemic, the second greatest on record, William Sponseller, chairman of the 1947 March of Dimes campaign committee here declared today.

Chapters in these states were enabled to carry on, he disclosed, by supplementary funds of more than $400,000 which national headquarters supplied by the end of the year from March of Dimes epidemic reserves. All these chapters, he pointed out, depend on this year's drive for funds to continue their activities.

Appealing for greater support than ever before for the January 15-20 March of Dimes, he revealed that services furnished by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis through the March of Dimes set an all-time high during the epidemic.

"Local chapters," Sponseller said, "equip hospitals in their areas to enable them to treat polio victims. They pay for transportation of patients to and from hospitals, defray costs of care, including physicians and surgeons' fees, and salaries of nurses and physical therapists."

Half the March of Dimes contributions remain with local chapters for these services. The other half goes to national headquarters for scientific research, education and epidemic aid.

SUPER-ROAD BILL IN OHIO SENATE

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17 — A new measure stood out in the Ohio senate today as unique because it offered taxpayers something substantial without asking them to pay for it.

That's the way Sen. Ralph A. Winter (R-Medina) described his bill to permit construction of an Ohio network of super-highways similar to the Pennsylvania turnpike.

Winter asked the legislature yesterday to authorize the new express highways, which would be paid for by tolls collected only from the motorists, trucks and buses traveling them.

Bonds would be issued to build the four-lane roads and they would be given to the state for inclusion in its highway system when the bonds were retired out of tolls.

Turnpike advocates have called for a 1,000-mile network of super-highways for Ohio to meet modern transportation needs. They asserted several hundred miles of such roads could be built by private contractors within three years.

The state will require ten years and at least $1,325,000,000 in tax money to bring its road system up to standard, said a recent survey released by the highway department before yielding to the present administration.

SEWER LINE GONE

Town's 752-Foot Extension 'Disappears', Or Was It Never Laid?

HARRISON, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Town officials looked up from yellowed documents today and admitted it—752 feet of sewer pipe has "disappeared" from under their streets.

The sewer has appeared on city maps since 1913 when it reputedly was installed, and abutting property owners have been taxed for it all this time. Sturdy manhole covers lined the route.

The mystery developed when Joseph J. Sisco, a contractor of nearby Port Chester, bought a lot 18 months ago on a corner to build a house. Maps showed sewers running to his corner from two directions.

He finished the house a few weeks ago and then his men began excavating for the sewer. The 1913 maps showed it was four feet underground. Workmen dug four feet. No sewer. They dug further. Still no sewer. They dug in other places. No luck.

They crawled down a nearby storm sewer manhole. A dummy. Basil E. Bradner, superintendent of highways for this Westchester county town, said his investigation showed the manholes had no outlets and that a sewer ended a block away from the Sisco lot.

Town officials directed town counsel to discuss the matter with the county district attorney.

AMVETS Clinch Round Title With Eighth Straight Victory

Mullins Nips United For Second Place Tie In Loop

Emphasis on Speed

A five-game bargain bill basketball card was presented at the Memorial building Thursday night as each of the 10 Class A league teams tangled.

The session ended the first round of play, as the AMVETS, in winning game over Town Talk 44-22, clinched the round championship with eight straight victories.

In other games played Mullins won a tight struggle from United Tool & Die 35-33, Demings squeaked by Elkworth 39-37, Si's Sports swapped the Veterans of Foreign Wars 51-20 and the Moose clipped the Electric Furnace 35-28.

Town Talk provided no problem to the AMVETS in their eighth conquest. The losers were held to only one field goal in the third quarter and got none in the first. The round champs rode to a 22-9 lead by halftime and increased it as they went along.

Bob "Doggie" Scullion had the biggest night of his career and also established a single game high for the league this season when he pounded the hoop for 21 points. Sam Pridon contributed 10 points.

In defeating United, Mullins clinched a tie with Si's for second place in the round. It was no easy task, however, as the game was close all the way.

Mullins held a slim two point margin at the half, but United came back to tie it up at the end of the third. However, the Manufacturers got back their two points and the game in the fourth as Don Smith pumped in three last minute baskets. Mullins hit five of 13 free throws and United 11 of 21 in a very rough game. In all, 33 personals were called.

Jim Kleon led Mullins with 11 points, while Dick Treleven and "Tricky Bill" Fisher each notched nine for United.

Demings' Pumpmackers had to outscore Ellsworth 19-9 in the final quarter to win by two points. They trailed the out-of-towners for 27 minutes of the tilt. After that point the score was knotted several times before Demings pulled away.

Lee Hahn swished a long shot to provide the winning points. His brother, Wayne, contributed eight and Don Rice six in the final quarter spurge. Wayne led the scoring with 12 points, as league-leading Torch Nedelka was held to a measly nine. Bunts was high for Ellsworth with 14.

Flashing a beautiful fast break, featuring Harry Ehrhart and Ray McGaffie, Si's Sports rolled up the highest total of the evening in vanquishing a hapless V. F. W. squad 51-20.

Ehrhart displayed some of the cleverest and most accurate passing seen all year as he sparked the Sports to their win. He collected 13 points, as did both McGaffie and Les Knepp.

An oddity of the tilt was that neither team scored a field goal in the second quarter, both being limited to a lone free throw.

Despite the accurate shooting of Gib Everhart, who nailed 14 points, eight in the third quarter, his Electric Furnace five went down before the smooth Moose combine in the final game of the night.

Coach Frank Tarr's Salem High Freshman basketball team recorded their first win in two starts Thursday night at Lisbon as they defeated the Junior Blue Devils 22-13.

Muhleman and Cosma pumped in six points apiece to lead Salem in scoring. Nocera collected four.

The Quakers led 10-4 at the half.

National League Chortles Over Signing Of Trippi

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Jan. 17—The National Football league was chortling today over the joke it handed the All-America Conference when it snatched Charley Trippi from under the noses of its rivals.

Trippi, All-America halfback from Georgia who apparently was all set to lug the leather for the All-America Yankees of New York next fall reversed the field yesterday and went to Chicago for a tet-a-tet with the Cubs.

And the dark, curly-haired product of Pittston, Pa., is expected to contract with Bidwill today or tomorrow to play with the Cardinals the next four years for a total of slightly less than $100,000.

Trippi's document with Bidwill will leave him free to deal for baseball services. And Bidwill said he would recommend to Charley that he accept an offer to hook up with the Chicago Cubs, passing up bids from the Boston Red Sox, Boston Braves, Philadelphia Phillies, Atlanta and Birmingham of the Southern association.

The Cubs, Bidwill disclosed, would give Trippi a $10,000 bonus to play with their Los Angeles team of the Pacific coast league next season, and then, if he proved himself a big leaguer and went up to the Cubs the following year, would pay $20,000. Thus they would match the $30,000 cash bonus dangled by the Red Sox.

The Yankees' offer of $105,000 to Trippi to play five years of football and two years of baseball represented a larger cash deal than Bidwill had offered, but Trippi would not agree to the clause stipulating that after two years he would have to choose between the sports, dropping one or the other.

The game, if won by the Salem outfit, will clinch a place in the division playoffs for the Saxon league title, despite the fact that five more loop games are to be played by the Salem club.

Gesture Of The Year

Government spokesmen seem especially enthusiastic about the Ford Co.'s price-cutting gesture. Naturally, the public isn't inclined to look a gift horse in the mouth, either.

Also organized labor, especially the C. I. O. contingent, must show approval, because it has been demanding that industry either raise wages or cut prices. Later, perhaps, it may turn out that organized labor didn't really want industry to cut prices but only mentioned it as a remote possibility.

Even other manufacturers must act outwardly pleased, because all of them have been subscribing in one form or another to the theory that the wage-price spiral should chase its tail in the other direction for a chance. So, in one way and another, this bold move by the Ford Co. probably will be the gesture of the year.

But price-cutting is one of those things that are good for the other fellow. The other fellow can afford to cut prices, and if he can't afford to he could cut them anyway. Of course what he can afford to do or should do has no bearing on anyone else or anything else in the same line of business. There will be no general rush to follow the Ford Co.'s example.

And lest someone jumps to the obvious conclusion and says the Ford Co. price-cutting gesture is industrial statesmanship, inspired by altruism, it had better be acknowledged for what it evidently is—a move by a family-owned industrial enterprise to increase its prestige and business volume in the light-car field. There is nothing wrong with that. It's the way prices eventually will be brought down. It's the way the United States was given a light, economical automobile a generation ago. Competition is the spice of life, and this is a sample.

Servants In Brass Hats

Gen. Marshall's appointment as secretary of state has awakened the American public to a potential danger.

Aside from career politicians and persons who have chosen to make their living in civil service, the only reliable source of public servants has become the armed services.

Gen. Marshall, a professional soldier, has said that he regards his appointment as a call to duty. His situation is similar to that of Gen. MacArthur, who is performing a thankless task as chief of occupation forces in Japan. Such men have a strong sense of responsibility. Their lives are dedicated to public service.

The United States ambassador to Russia is Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith. The government of Germany, as far as the United States is concerned, is a military responsibility.

This government is represented in Belgium by a retired vice admiral, Alan G. Kirk. Gen. Thomas Holcomb, Marine Corps, retired, is United States ambassador to the Union of South Africa. Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, retired, former head of Veterans Administration, is in Panama.

Other military men, some retired, some still active, occupy key positions throughout the government and are more likely to occupy them. The reason is obvious. They are available for public service. Private citizens are not so readily available.

Military men are as likely to be skilled organizers and administrators as strategists. Gen. Marshall, for instance, is a genius at organizing. Gen. Eisenhower is a genius in the art of diplomacy. Gen. Omar Bradley, a military genius, also seems to be doing a first-rate job as the head of Veterans Administration. The United States, with endless need of able public servants, is taking them where it can find them.

All Aboard?

It is an item of political interest that even the Boettigers, John and Ann, have been welcomed aboard the latest wagonload of dissidents leaving the Democratic party for parts unknown.

Americans for Democratic Action, the non-Communist splinter group headed by those former "Democrats," Wilson W. Wyatt and Leon Henderson, is pleased to announce that the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's daughter and son-in-law have been added to its sponsoring committee. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. already were on the committee.

The interest in this announcement is, of course, the evidence that the emigration from the Democratic party, now that lean days have come upon it, is reaching all the way down to the in-laws. There apparently is no limit to the contempt the dissidents are capable of showing for the organization to which they gave lip loyalty during Mr. Roosevelt's years in the White House.

The public is shocked. It had been told that the Leon Hendersons, Tommy Corcorans et al were all bona fide Democrats. It was told in 1936 that even John L. Lewis was a Democrat, for was he not spending his miners' money to re-elect Mr. Roosevelt? Sidney Hillman was a Democrat. Henry Wallace and Harold Ickes were Democrats—all members of the same big, happy family.

Of course it wasn't so, but it made a good story. Actually, it never was the Democratic party in power, but a coalition in which Democrats were a minor part. The party label was pasted on the bottle to conceal what was inside, not to reveal anything. Soon, all the opportunists will be on their way to parts unknown, and it will be plain who were the Democrats and who were the pretenders.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, January 19

SUNDAY'S horoscope shows a continuation of the peculiar undercurrents in which subtle or subconscious forces and faculties may be under exceptional stress or stimuli. And while this may be a fitting attitude for Sabbath vocations or avocations with spiritual factors, inspiring to ideals, fancies, creative ability, beauty, charm and magnetic attraction uppermost, any unrealistic effort at workaday plans or purposes may invite defeat or regret.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year of curious or peculiar adventures or experiences. This, born of the predominance of ideals, faculties or forces keyed to the finer promptings of beauty, charm, imagination's magnetic attractions, intuitive or psychological impulses, in which rational and commonplace conditions have little appeal. With artistic or creative urges properly directed into constructive channels, there might be exceptional gratification, but purely objective plans might be menaced by illusions, erratic or emotional gestures.

A child born on this day might be inspired by unique love of beauty, charm, spiritual urges or psychological promptings, but with little inclination to the realistic patterns of life. Wisely directed, such exquisite incitements may beget a happy and prolific career.

For Monday, January 20

Monday's astrological forecast emphasizes the trend toward the imaginative, illusive, idealistic and inspirational rather than any attempt to inaugurate practical and commonplace programs of realistic value. Such temperamental qualities are liable to cause trouble through suspicion, susceptibility to schemes, intrigues or other weird or subtle attachments or entanglements, in which there is more real danger and sorrow rather than profit or enjoyment. Keep alert to all forms of fraud and illicit indulgences.

The Birthday Forecast

Those whose birthday it is may be involved in a year of curious or intriguing entanglements in which strange emotions or impulses may lure from practical and realistic issues. The grasp of delusions, fancies, imagination, queer adventure, may magnify susceptibility to dupes, frauds and tricksters of all phases and sinister intent. Shun add snares and indulgences of illicit complexion.

A child born on this day may have fanciful, impractical and psychological tendencies, which call for early training and direction into practical and realistic usefulness.

Look at the bright side! It's cold enough to get home before that package of ice cream starts dripping.

It's a relief to know that once again Old King Coal is a merry ol' soul.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Rheumatoid Arthritis Crippling Disease

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

MORE people are disabled each year by rheumatic diseases affecting the joints than by cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes and heart disease combined.

These rheumatic diseases, which stiffen the joints and cause swelling, tenderness and pain in the areas around them, are also the most common cause of long-continued illnesses.

One of the worst of these offenders, both in the severity of its symptoms and in the number of people its affects, is rheumatoid arthritis.

For this reason it is a pity that the exact cause of this painful and crippling affliction has never been discovered.

Changes In Tissues

Today doctors are beginning to suspect that the destructive changes which take place in the tissues surrounding the joints may be only an effect of some more generalized disorder, whose secret trouble-making begins much earlier.

Dr. Roland Davidson of San Francisco, takes this view, stating that many persons may be sick for months or even years, before the joint symptoms develop.

In the beginning, the X-ray examination of the joints shows nothing abnormal but, as the disease progresses, destruction of the cartilages, which act like pads on the ends of the bone, may be seen in the X-ray.

Patient's General Health

The treatment of rheumatoid arthritis requires many months before improvement may be expected.

To begin with, efforts should be made to build up the patient's general health, particularly with physical and mental rest. Pain must be relieved by the use of such drugs as the salicylates. When possible, treatment in a hospital for several weeks may be of advantage. So-called physical measures of treatment are particularly helpful. Simple exercises, especially when the patient is confined to bed, are important. Warm baths, massage, and manipulation or movements of the joints are all helpful as the patient begins to recover.

Heat applied to the joints, by means of the electrical method known as diathermy, is also of value. However, diathermy treatments may do more harm than good in the early stages of the disorder.

As a rule, no special diet is required. However, the diet should be well-balanced; that is, it should include all of the necessary food parts.

In all instances a search should be made for infections, such as may be present in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses, or prostate gland, and if any such infections are found they should be cleared up when possible.

Dr. Davidson believes that large doses of vitamin C may be of advantage in some cases of rheumatoid arthritis, and that vitamin D, used in large doses, may also be effective in certain instances.

However, when the patient is taking large doses of vitamin D, he must be kept under the care of a physician so that any unfavorable reactions may be noted and taken care of.

Arthritis is not a hopeless disease, but there is need for much further search in regard to the causes and treatment.

Once its cause is discovered, it may well be that measures to forestall this crippling can be instituted, so that in the future it will never reach its most painful and disabling stage.

Boy Scout Executive Board Plans County-Wide Program

A county-wide Boy Scout expansion plan was outlined Thursday night at the first 1947 meeting of the executive board of the Columbiana council of the Boy Scouts at the scout office in Lisbon.

Present plans require each community in the council to prepare necessary information for an expansion program in its own area for presentation to the board on Feb. 27.

Seventeen board members attended the Thursday meeting. They will take the recommendations provided by the various committees and turn them over to each council committee for action.

Plans were also discussed for celebrating the council's 25th anniversary this year. Among the events, for which tentative arrangements were made, is a public recognition meeting in November.

The expansion program also will be a part of the silver anniversary celebration. The program is designed to bring scouting to more boys.

Chairmen Are Named
Board President O. E. Hall of East Liverpool conducted the meeting and appointed committees for 1947. The following men will act as chairmen:

Finance, J. A. Reaney of East Liverpool; health-safety, George L. Lafferty of Lisbon; camping activities, A. V. Smith of Salem; leadership training, W. G. Fordyce of East Liverpool; advancement, Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem.

Board members learned from annual reports given at the meeting that all phases of the county council's activities showed a marked increase in 1946 over the preceding year. The year-end report disclosed a total membership of 1,601 Scouts, Cubs and leaders and that a total of 2,107 members were registered, at one time or another, during the year.

Both marks exceeded any previous figures for the council.

In other actions discussed by the board, an application was made to national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America for the 1947 county charter.

The board is still seeking to hire an assistant Scout executive for the county. Due to the increased scouting activity, the burden of work on Executive Don Gay of Lisbon has become too great for one man to handle. The board hopes to secure the services of an assistant within 30 days.

Wholesale Sugar Prices Boosted; Up Quarter Cent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—OPA has authorized an increase in wholesale sugar price ceilings which it estimated will mean a boost of about one-quarter a cent a pound at retail stores.

The increase, amounting to 18½ cents per hundred pounds for raw sugar and 20 cents for refined sugar, is effective tomorrow but will not reach retail levels until arrival of the first shipments under the new wholesale scale.

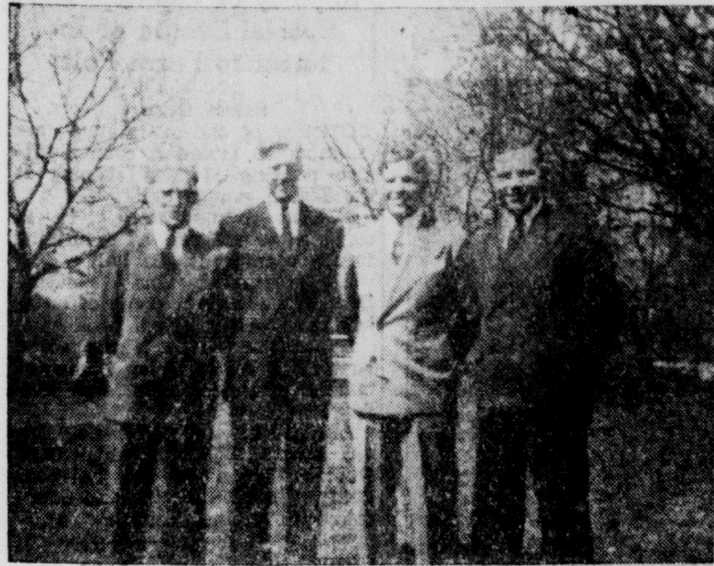

The agency said the increases were made necessary because of the terms under which the government buys sugar from Cuba. Under this agreement the price paid the Cubans for raw sugar is tied to increases in retail food prices in this country.

Make Rediscovery Of Little America

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
ABOARD THE U. S. S. MOUNT OLYMPUS, in Bay of Whales, Jan. 17—(Delayed)—The rediscovery of Little America between 20 feet of snow, piled high by six Antarctic winters, was a warm operation.

I was with the discovery party yesterday when it found Admiral Byrd's old camp, near where a base will be set up for the new expedition.

The hike across the three miles of treacherous ice and snow from the bay was like a trek over desert sands, and the exertion made it almost as hot because the feet sink down every few steps.

The old camp of the 1939-41 expedition was perfectly preserved and will be used as an emergency camp in case a rescue party has to remain when the expedition quits Antarctica next spring.

The only damage was to some tunnels, which were partly caved in.

RESOURCES GAIN AT LISBON STATE BANK

LISBON, Jan. 18.—The annual report of the Peoples State Bank Co. shows an increase of $400,000 in total resources during the past year.

Two new members, W. D. Edgerton and R. Dale Miller were elected to the board of directors, which has been increased to eight members.

Other members are D. M. Hepburn, H. K. Bye, Robert H. Huston, N. H. Ramsey, G. C. Rauch and Adam P. Rudibaugh.

The following officers were re-elected:

D. H. Hepburn, president; N. H. Ramsey, vice president; Robert H. Huston, secretary, and G. C. Rauch, assistant secretary; V. B. Lemley, cashier; Miss Dorothy Loch, and A. C. Marshall, assistant cashiers; Miss Anne Davies, bookkeeper and teller, and Miss Doris Woods, bookkeeper.

LISBON BRIEFS

"There is no other country better than America," says Sam Pappas, who has returned to Lisbon after a three-month visit in Greece.

He planned only a month's vacation when he left for his native country last August, but after a two-week stay in Athens, he found there was no transportation immediately available to the United States.

Pappas stayed at the Piazza hotel in Athens during the time of his visit in that city. He left for the United States on Dec. 1 and arrived in New York Jan. 10.

The voyage home placed Sam in Genoa, Italy, for five days, Jerusalem, Palestine, three days, Alexandria, Egypt, four days, Oren, Africa, three days, and at Gibraltar, Spain, three days. He toured all the cities and purchased many souvenirs.

Pappas said the "big day" of his visit was the celebration held when King George came to Athens. Another highlight of the trip was the visiting of historical sites in Athens, such as Parthenon at the Acropolis. He spent only two days in his home town of Klavista, Greece, where he saw his brother-in-law and several nephews. The Lisbon man has been a resident of the United States since 1906.
